

guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bell of London.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell are in this country on leave and are coming to town from New York where they have been visiting to stay with Mrs. Bell's parents, Gen. and Mrs. Carl A. Spaatz.

Mr. Bell is with the British Foreign Office. They expect to return to England in mid-November. Mrs. Bell, before her marriage was "Tatty" Spaatz, and during the World War II was with the American Red Cross, stationed at Gen. Cabell's Air Command. The Cabell's dinner party will bring many friends together who served "over there."

Gen. and Mrs. Cabell will leave for Walker Air Force Base, Roswell, N. Mex., next Sunday to visit their son, Lt. Cabell, jr. on duty.

They will be the house-guests later of Mr. and Mrs.

Bells Here

The Deputy Director of Central Intelligence and Mrs. Charles Pearre Cabell will entertain at dinner Wednesday in their quarters at Bolling Air Force Base. Their honor

Peter Hurd at Sentinel Ranch? bells expect to be gone until Thanksgiving.

San Patricia, N. Mex. The Ca-

OCT 29 1960

Horse Show Ball Aids MEDICO

By FRANCES BIDE

Star Staff Writer

"Fun" and "funds" were the twin goals of the Washington International Horse Show ball last night.

And both scored wins at the festivities staged at the Shoreham Hotel.

The funds were for MEDICO, voluntarily nonsectarian medical service providing direct person-to-person aid to newly developing countries.

Dr. Peter D. Comanduras of Arlington, co-founder with famed Dr. Thomas A. Dooley of the Medical International Co-operation Organization, was on hand to take a bow along with other MEDICO officials and supporters.

The fun was for participants in the show at the Armory, especially the out-of-town exhibitors, international teams and the judges.

Late Start

Scheduled to start at 10:30 p.m., the ball didn't draw a full house until two hours later, since the show wasn't over until about midnight. In the meantime, however, early arrivals, including some of the Capital's socialites and friends of MEDICO danced to music by Devron's orchestra in a picturesque setting which carried out an autumn theme.

Piece de resistance of the evening was the hunt breakfast, served by candlelight at tables covered with red and white checked cloths.

Adding color to the scene were the "pinks" worn by a number of the masculine contingent. Spotted at one table were Mr. Milton Rituenburg of the Blue Ridge Hunt, Gen. Harry Diston of the Keswick Hunt and Mr. Daniel McCullough of Toledo, Ohio.

Dr. Robert Moran of the Potomac Hunt and Mr. Kenneth Edwards of Warrenton, Va., were others in pinks.

Mrs. Longworth Absent

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth was chairman of the ball but didn't make it in the end. After spending the day and evening at the Horse Show, she evidently decided that midnight was no time to start on another round of activity.

Mrs. M. Robert Guggenheim and Mrs. Garvin E. Tankersley, assisting chairmen, were there early, however, as was Miss Louise Gore, treasurer of the ball.

Mrs. Guggenheim had a large table, her guests including Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cafritz, Mrs. Robert McCormick, the Ambassador of Denmark and Countess Knuth-Winterfeldt and Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Andrew Berding.

Gen. and Mrs. Charles P. Cabell were among the Tankersleys' guests and others in the assemblage of 350 or so included Mr. Harvey Spear, president of the show, and Mrs. Spear, the show manager, Mr. Victor Tantalo, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pettibone, Mrs. D. R. Motch and Miss Poppin Robinson.

Brig. Gen. and Mrs. John Coulter came from Colorado Springs especially for the party and the latter, better known as Constance Bennett, put in a plug for MEDICO as she announced that Artist Nicholas Pavloff was contributing a portrait to the cause.

Dr. Edgar F. Bernard, a new member of MEDICO's board of directors, also came over from Baltimore for the benefit.